Message from the President

As President of the Connecticut Association of Health Care Facilities (CAHCF), I am proud to introduce the eighth edition of the CAHCF Membership Directory and Buyers' Guide.

The CAHCF Membership Directory and Buyers' Guide, an invaluable resource for our members and affiliates, is just one more example of why CAHCF continues to be the leading long-term care organization in our state. CAHCF, our state's 160-member trade association skilled nursing facilities and rehabilitation centers providing post-acute, transitional and long-term care nursing homes, was founded in 1929 with the sole purpose of bettering long-term care. During these difficult and challenging times, I am very pleased that the CAHCF Board of Directors remains strongly committed to its founding mission.

We continue to face very challenging issues, with a depressed economy and growing numbers of frail and elderly residents needing the skilled nursing services of long term care. In 2014, our members saw ongoing Medicare reductions, coupled with the ongoing Medicaid shortfalls, as federal and state policies continue to advance home and community based services (HCBS) options for the frail and elderly. Connecticut policy makers also continued on a path to encourage more HCBS in such programs as Money Follows the Person, a new Community First Choice option, and development is still underway for a new No Wrong Door single point of entry for long term care with federal Balancing Incentive Payments (BIP). As well, the state's long-term care rightsizing, rebalancing and nursing home diversification agenda will continue to create challenges and opportunities for our CAHCF members nursing facilities. Now more than ever, we need to find creative, long term solutions that will protect nursing home services for families and individuals.

Our association continues to utilize the highest level of professional services in the areas of legal, regulatory, legislative and industry financial analysis through our longstanding expert consultants and business affiliate members. Our members have enjoyed the best and most timely information available on both the state and national fronts and we will strive to achieve that same level of customer service in 2015.

CAHCF's Education Committee offers high-caliber seminars on a variety of topics that are pertinent to our industry. These seminars and training programs are an important resource for staff development. Annually, CAHCF hosts an Educational Conference & Trade Show exposing the profession to new ideas, products and services oriented to improving efficiency within the long-term care environment. Additionally, our members share information freely, willingly and in a collegial spirit — an invaluable service.

Along with our staff, consultants and lobbyists, our association continues to work tirelessly on the important long term care issues we face. This is true at both the state and federal levels of government. As the state affiliate of the American Health Care Association (AHCA), CAHCF members benefit from full AHCA membership and participate in the most extensive long term care grassroots advocacy and lobbying activities in our nation. To be sure, CAHCF continues to be a strong partner in the national strategies employed by AHCA and we reap the benefits of the unmatched national leadership provided by AHCA.

We anticipate that 2015 will again be a year of great challenges. CAHCF is engaged and participating in our state government efforts to further rebalance and right size the long-term care sector toward providing more care outside of the nursing home. In this regard, CAHCF has proposed a responsible voluntary skilled nursing facility bed reduction initiative. CAHCF will continue to fight for a fair and just Medicaid rate setting system at the state level and will participate fully in AHCA driven efforts to influence the Congress and the Executive Branch on the pressing issues of our day. Finally, we will continue to advocate for fixing the broken Medicaid rate-setting system with our Governor, Dannel P. Malloy, and through the legislative process with our strong lobbying and grassroots activities.

We are well-positioned for the tasks at hand with our most important resource — our members. I look forward to working with each and every one of you in 2015 to ensure that CAHCF and its members achieve the highest level of success and growth possible.

Lawrence Santilli
CAHCF President

Vera P. Arterburn Memorial Scholarship Fund

Vera P. Arterburn, one of the founders of the Connecticut Association of Health Care Facilities, Inc, and its predecessor organization, was a pioneer and a leader for over 40 years among geriatric health-care professionals. Her years of service to CAHCF were characterized by her dedication to nursing education which was of primary focus to her, as both an LPN and as a nursing home owner, in assisting the Association and its members to promote and improve the delivery of quality patient care to its patients.

Therefore, it seemed appropriate shortly after Vera's death in 1987, for the Association to create the Vera Arterburn Memorial Scholarship Fund, Inc, as a tax-exempt Section 501(c)(3) organization, and to use charitable donations made by CAHCF members to award nursing educational scholarships to deserving applicants who qualify as employees of CAHCF member institutions and who wish to advance their long-term-care provider education.

American Health Care Association

The American Health Care Association (AHCA) is a non-profit federation of affiliated state health organizations, together representing more than 10,000 non-profit and for-profit assisted living, nursing facility, developmentally-disabled, and subacute care providers that care for more than 1.5 million elderly and disabled individuals nationally.

AHCA represents the long term care community to the nation at large – to government, business leaders, and the general public. It also serves as a force for change within the long term care field, providing information, education, and administrative tools that enhance quality at every level.

At its Washington, DC headquarters, the association maintains legislative, regulatory and public affairs, as well as member services staffs which work both internally and externally to assist the interests of government and the general public, as well as member providers. In that respect, AHCA represents its membership to all publics, and national leadership to its members.

At its second conference as an organization, in 1949, AHCA established tenets which still stand today, though somewhat expanded and particularized: The object of this association shall be:

- To improve the standards of service and administration of member nursing homes.
- To secure and merit public and official recognition and approval of the work of nursing homes.
- To adopt and promote programs of education, legislation, better understanding and mutual cooperation.

The ultimate focus is on providing quality care to the nation's frail, elderly and disabled, who are served by the long term care professionals who comprise AHCA's membership. These providers believe that the individuals whom they serve are entitled to a supportive environment in which professional and compassionate care is delivered. This belief compels AHCA, its affiliates and member providers to advocate for individuals who – because of social needs, disability, trauma or illness – require services provided in a long term care setting, while also advocating for the continuing vitality of long term care provider community.

AHCA believes this necessitates their commitment to developing necessary and reasonable public policies which balance economic and regulatory principles to support quality care and quality of life, and is dedicated to professionalism and ethical behavior among all who provide long term care.

Connecticut Culture Change Coalition (CTCCC)

Connecticut's Culture Change Coalition (CTCCC) is a voluntary, grass-roots effort by nursing home providers and stakeholders to learn from one another and support each other's efforts to change the culture in nursing homes to places where people want to live and work. CTCCC encourages residents and families to join the coalition and help guide its efforts.

Our Mission

The mission of CTCCC is to drive positive changes in long term care from institutional models of care to person-centered environments.

Our Vision

We promote development of person-centered environments where individuals live, work and grow in nurturing, respectful communities that honor personal choice and diverse lifestyles.

The Coalition accomplishes this by supporting culture change through:

- Educating
- Sharing success stories and lessons learned with one another
- Acting as a liaison between stakeholders
- Developing collaborative relationships

Connecticut Commission on Aging

Connecticut's Legislative Commission on Aging is a non-partisan state agency of the Connecticut General Assembly.

We are devoted to preparing our state for the burgeoning aging populations while promoting policies that enhance the lives of the present and future generations of older adults.

The Legislative Commission is comprised of a resourceful team of 21 voting (unpaid) members, 4 part-time professional staff, and volunteers.

Since its creation by the CT General Assembly in 1993, Connecticut's Legislative Commission on Aging has served as an effective leader in statewide efforts to promote choice, independence and dignity for Connecticut's older adults.

We fill a unique role within state government by building bridges, opening dialogue and seeking solutions between influential groups including the legislative and executive branches of state government, local government, the business community, and state and local organizations that serve critical needs of older citizens and statewide public/private sector coalitions such as the Connecticut Elder Action Network, Connecticut Long-Term Care Advisory Council and the Money Follows the Person Steering Committee.

To achieve our goals, we:

- Propose, support and/or critique legislation that will improve the quality of life for older residents in Connecticut. For example, we've led the formation of public-private sector partnerships such as the Connecticut Elder Action Network and chaired and managed the Long-Term Care Advisory Council and the Money Follows the Person steering committee.
- Meet regularly with—and serve as a resource to—representatives of state agencies and other state officials and legislators to review and comment on policies, budgets and procedures that affect older adults.
- Provide information on issues facing older adults to the business and education community, state and local governments and the news media.
- Develop and promote legislative proposals and drafts and present testimony before the General Assembly.
- Work directly with the state legislature, the executive branch and others to shape effective public policy.
- Direct comprehensive studies on issues – such as long-term care – that impact older adults and persons with disabilities.
- Analyze demographic, economic, and service delivery trends in aging.
- Identify and research emerging issues and trends related to the quality of life of older adults.
- Use Results-Based Accountability to guide and focus our work.

Connecticut Department on Aging Long-term Care Ombudsman Program

Mandated by the Federal Older American's Act and Connecticut General Statute 17b-400, the Connecticut Long Term Care Ombudsman Program protects and promotes the rights and quality of life for residents of skilled nursing facilities, residential care homes and managed residential care communities (also known as assisted living facilities). The Regional Ombudsman, along with the Volunteer Resident Advocate, provides a voice to residents' concerns and, as importantly, empowers residents to have a voice in ensuring their rights. This is accomplished through individual consultation and complaint resolution and also through work with other state agencies and advocacy organizations. The State Ombudsman also works with policy makers, legislators and stakeholders to advance and improve systems and protections at the state level.

Mission

The mission of the Connecticut Long Term Care Ombudsman Program is to protect the health, safety, welfare and rights of long term care residents by:

- Investigating complaints and concerns made by residents, or on behalf of residents, in a timely and prompt manner.
- Bringing residents to the forefront to voice their concerns directly to public officials on issues affecting their lives.
- Supporting residents in their quest to shape their own legislative agenda and to represent the residents' interests before governmental agencies.

The Quality Award program has three progressive step levels. Applications are judged by trained examiners who provide feedback on opportunities for improvement to support continuous learning. Facilities must achieve an award at each level to progress to the next level.

- Bronze – Commitment to Quality (formerly Step I) applicants begin their quality journey by developing an organizational profile including vision and mission statements, an awareness of their environment and customers' expectations, and a demonstration of their ability to improve a process.
- Silver – Achievement in Quality (formerly Step II) applicants demonstrate a level of achievement in their quality journey through good performance outcomes that have evolved from how they embrace the core values and concepts of visionary leadership, focus on the future, resident-focused excellence, management by innovation, and focus on results and creating value.
- Gold – Excellence in Quality (formerly Step III) applicants must show superior performance over time that is based on their systematic approaches to leadership; strategic planning, focus on customers, measurement, analysis and knowledge management, workforce focus, process management and results. Gold applicants address the complete Baldrige Criteria for Performance Excellence in Health Care.

Grassroots

Few industries are more vulnerable to the impact of legislation and regulation than ours. That's why your active participation is important. We cannot put ourselves, and the patients we serve, at the mercy of legislators and bureaucrats. We must amplify our state and national voice at the all-important grassroots level.

The primary goal of lobbyists is to advance issues through the legislative process. For the grassroots lobbyist, this means providing local insight and personal expertise on our industry's issues. To succeed, you must be able to navigate through the political process.

Being a CAHCF/AHCA grassroots lobbyist is communicating with Members of Congress and state legislators in order to influence governmental policy that affects the long term care industry. By using his or her local leadership and expertise, a good grassroots lobbyist seeks to inform and persuade elected officials, thereby influencing the outcome of laws and regulations that affect the long term care industry.

As we continue to move forward on our industry's most pressing issues, CAHCF and AHCA/NCAL's staff will call on you, from time to time, when critical action is needed – from writing a simple letter to inviting a Member of Congress to tour your facility.

It's all about ACCESS:

- Access refers to the ability to get an appointment with legislators or their staffs – and you can get it.
- As a local constituent who represents an important health care sector, you can bring our industry's concerns to the attention of your elected officials.
- Write, email and call your members of Congress and state legislators.
- When federal and state elected officials are in your local area, meet them. You can become a familiar name and face.
- Become recognized as a subject-matter “expert” and establish a relationship as a valuable resource.
- Develop a professional, working relationship with your elected representatives. That is ACCESS!

CAHCF seeks to establish, develop and sustain a strong link between legislators and our staff, AHCA/NCAL staff in Washington, DC and the grassroots of our profession. That grassroots is YOU – and we welcome your participation in bringing a dose of hands-on “reality” to any state or national level policy discussion of long term care.

Grassroots lobbying is building relationships.

Recognition, both by legislators and among your peers, is part of grassroots leadership. Use that recognition to solidify your role as an “expert” information resource on our industry's issues. You know more about our industry than any elected official. Use that knowledge to inform and assist policymakers. That will place you in a position to influence the development of public policy on long term care issues. And that's the ultimate goal!

The most successful lobbying is based upon long term relationships. The decision makers whom lobbyists focus upon are those with the most potential to affect the outcome of their constituencies' interests. Lobbyists deal primarily in providing information and grassroots lobbying is the most successful because of the personal element it represents.

- Multidisciplinary clinical model integrates pharmacological and non-pharmacological interventions. Emphasis is on the assessment and understanding of the origins of the behavior with non-pharmacological interventions as the first line of treatment when possible.
- Cognitive assessments and recommend interventions utilizing evidence-based medicine.

Great Clinicians. GREAT CARE.

Improving the quality of life

Memory Care Program

The MedOptions Memory Care Program helps individuals and their families live optimally with cognitive illnesses. Treatment begins with a comprehensive evaluation, however the unique benefits of the program extend beyond diagnosis.

The Memory Care Program can benefit those who:

- have difficulty remembering recent conversations, appointments, specific occasions, or medications
- demonstrate difficulty driving
- have difficulty managing finances, balancing a checkbook, or paying bills
- ask the same questions repeatedly, or struggle with finding the “right” word
- get lost or disoriented in familiar places
- misplace items such as keys, purses or wallets

Evaluation Process. A psychologist will spend about two hours with the individual assessing cognitive strengths and limitations to determine the appropriate level of care. The psychologist then conducts a feedback session with the individual's family, and provides a written report to the family and primary care physician.

Neurocognitive Testing. This assessment provides a differential diagnosis and establishes a baseline, reviews short and long term memory, ability to learn and retain information, and decision making capacity. Annual evaluations monitor the progressive changes over time to ensure the proper care plan is in place.

For your convenience, evaluations are provided at select assisted and skilled nursing facilities throughout Connecticut.

Contact MedOptions today to learn more about how our Memory Care Program can assist your patients and families to cope and manage cognitive illnesses.

Our thing.
Being good neighbors.

How does a localized area become a genuine community? It takes good people doing great things. Not just for themselves but also for their neighbors. It's mentoring those who need guidance. It's opening new businesses with quality products at fair prices. It's teachers who care. It's art that enriches the mind; theater that thrills the soul. It's playing together, working together, and watching our kids grow up together. And as we perform these daily rituals, strangers become friends. Where anything, with a little help from them, seems possible. Visit us at firstniagara.com.
