Overview

Calling all Palliative Care and Hospice Care Providers...
Don't miss our first ever Statewide Hospice and Palliative Care Summit as national, regional, and statewide experts share their visions for “The Future of End-of-Life Care: Choice, Dignity and Compassion.” Edo Banach (Pres/CEO of NHPCO) will kick off the day discussing his thoughts on the current and potential future state of hospice and palliative care. Edo will also moderate a panel in the afternoon of innovative hospice and palliative care provider experts. You will hear about Oregon’s Death with Dignity program (Aid in Dying) including lessons learned and data captured over the 20-year span of their state law. Finish the day with a captivating, motivational speaker and CT author Lynn McPhelimy as she adds a humorous touch to ensuring “your checklist in life” is documented and communicated to your loved ones.

Who Should Attend

This program will benefit providers in all aspects of End-of-Life care, both Palliative & Hospice. We invite your entire Interdisciplinary Team: Physicians, Nurses, Therapists, Social Workers, Chaplains, Bereavement Coordinators, Hospice Aides, Volunteers & Program Directors from across the provider continuum (hospitals, nursing homes, assisted living, homecare and hospice).

Continuing Education Units Pending

Applications for 5 Continuing Education Unit Hours have been submitted for Social Workers and Nurses.

KEYNOTE
Hospice 2.0
Edo Banach, JD, President and CEO of the National Hospice & Palliative Care Association (NHPCO)

As the current state of hospice and palliative care continues to evolve, take part in an interactive discussion on what we know now and what we anticipate as changes continue. Learn how to articulate the status quo for Medicare Hospice and Palliative Care. Participate in a discussion on the current legislative landscape and regulatory changes while exploring areas of possible reform. Leave this session being able to think critically about areas of innovation and change for hospice and palliative care.

Death with Dignity: Practical Considerations for Home Health, Hospice, and Palliative Care Providers
Barbara Hansen, CEO, Executive Director of Oregon Hospice and Palliative Care Association

Barbara will review the state regulations regarding medical aid in dying in Oregon and Washington. We will discuss utilization statistics and demographic data regarding patients who have implemented the law. The primary focus of the session is to review practical considerations for home health, hospice, and palliative care providers as programs have operationalized the regulations since the laws went into effect in 1997 (Oregon) and 2009 (Washington).

Organize Your Life...Once and For All
Gain Control. Gain Confidence. Gain Peace of Mind. And Have Fun Doing It!
Lynn McPhelimy, Author, Speaker, Organizer

If something happened to you or a loved one...got stuck somewhere while traveling, ended up in the hospital, or worse...would your family and friends know what to do?

As featured on The Oprah Winfrey Show and NBC’s Today Show, Lynn McPhelimy will provide inspiration, tips and techniques to organize all of the “facts” of your life and, ultimately, pull it together in one place for yourself and your loved ones! Make positive changes today and confidently plan ahead for tomorrow!
